support NBI 88 NEA shall review and modify current practices used for all NEA sponsored events, to develop consistent practices, including below steps, in providing needed accommodations due to disability. Registration forms shall include an item that inquires if and what accommodations are needed. NEA shall insure that someone with appropriate knowledge regarding disability will determine if the accommodations are reasonable to meet in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If the accommodations are determined reasonable, NEA will have outlined actions to be taken to provide the accommodations. If the accommodations are determined not reasonable, reasons for this decision will be provided in writing and the individual will be given the opportunity to work in an interactive process with NEA to see if there are alternative means to accommodate.

RATIONALE FOR MOTION:

This would provide a consistent and streamlined process for members, and others, to request and obtain needed accommodations due to a disability. Thus, allowing full inclusion and representation in NEA, while avoiding any unintended exclusion due to disability.

The NEA shall set up meetings with the IDEA Full Funding Coalition to discuss a plan to officially endorse and use its communication infrastructure to promote a national/local "day of action" to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) that highlights the $30 billion in additional funds Congress indicated that it could provide and that discusses how existing IDEA funding can and should be accurately tracked.

RATIONALE FOR MOTION:

In our current environment of woefully underfunded schools, the additional $30 billion annually that the Federal Government should be providing our most vulnerable students needs to be a top priority.

STATEMENT OF MOTION: I move that NCUEA ...

I move that NCUEA take a position of support for NBI 5 (text of NEA RA NBI pasted below) at the NEA RA and organize a floor strategy to support it.

"As the largest labor union in the United States, the NEA shall begin the work necessary to join the UAW and other unions in organizing toward a possible May 1, 2028, nationwide day of action. To that end, the NEA shall convene a task force to study the following, with a goal of reporting out to the 2025 RA delegates:

1. Protocols that must be put in place to allow for the NEA President and Executive Committee to call for a nationwide day of action in the form of a one-day walkout to call for an economy that prioritizes the common good and a proposed schedule of implementation of protocols;
2. Proposed trainings necessary for state and local affiliates to successfully engage in a nationwide one-day walkout;
3. Physical resources necessary to organize toward a nationwide one-day walkout;
4. Proposed timeline for organizing toward a successful nationwide one-day walkout; and
5. Proposed opportunities for rank-and-file members to engage with one another via virtual meetings on the topic of a nationwide one-day walkout."

RATIONALE FOR MOTION:

It is essential that we, as the largest labor union in the country, engage in deep organizing across local and state affiliates and take action with other labor unions to demand and win an economy that prioritizes the common good.

1. Working with local and state leaders to create a common definition of strike and action readiness;
2. Ensuring all state and local affiliates are aware of resources and trainings that are available through NEA on the topic of strike and/or action readiness;
3. Providing training to all interested state and local affiliates on the topic of strike and/or action readiness;
4. Helping state and local affiliates to remove potential financial barriers to accessing trainings on strike and/or action readiness;
5. Assisting interested state and local affiliates in connecting regionally and across the nation to build stronger solidarity and support networks; and
6. Providing guidance and/or information to state and local affiliates who are interested on the topic of establishing strike/action/crisis funds."

RATIONALE FOR MOTION:

The relational organizing work of rank-and-file members to become strike/action ready is vital to preserving public education as a cornerstone of democracy, creating better working and learning conditions in schools, and building/sustaining unions that lift up our communities.

Submit the following NBI for consideration at the NEA RA:

The NEA, using existing resources, will draft model legislation to be brought to policymakers at the state and federal level; calling for the design and implementation of incentive programs for educators pursuing training and/or certification in multi-lingual education.

RATIONALE FOR MOTION:

The Federal government and many state governments recognize the need for incentives to encourage educators to pursue training in high needs areas. Incentives such as student loan forgiveness exist at the national and state levels for high need areas such as Math, Science, and Special Education. In many states and locals, the need for educators to be trained in multi-lingual education is increasing exponentially, sometimes over night. The NEA needs to be a leader in working with state governments and the federal government to design incentive programs to encourage more educators to obtain training and certification in multi-lingual education .

Additionally, we know that small class sizes mean more opportunity for humanizing the learning experience and personalizing learning for and with each learner. This is especially true for multi-lingual learners who are working on learning all the 'grade-level' standards and skills as well as working on language acquisition.

NEA will use existing free tools and resources from the non-profit initiative Attendance Works to publish data on the worsening national crisis of chronic absenteeism as well as the local and state success stories highlighting the coordination of restorative, family-centered approaches. NEA will call on union and government state leaders to work with school districts to create or integrate at least one multicultural family event in the 2024-2025 school year which works to identify and communicate in multiple languages possible local reasons for student absence and ways families and communities can support students. These events would emphasize how families and communities benefit from educated students, develop workable non-punitive solutions to student absenteeism, and call attention to the existing local resources to support families experiencing household hardship. School districts and state leadership would share the engagement experience before and after via digital family media communication to maximize outreach.
